

History 2020 -- Exam #1

1. Three of the following are advantages that the United States enjoyed in its rise to industrial supremacy in the late nineteenth century. Which is the EXCEPTION?
 - a. favorable government policies
 - b. an abundance of basic raw materials
 - c. a growing labor supply and expanding market
 - d. a high level of basic research in pure science
2. The first big businesses in the United States were
 - a. textile companies
 - b. meat packing enterprises
 - c. steel corporations
 - d. railroad companies
3. The most important agent promoting settlement in the Trans-Mississippi West was
 - a. the United States Department of Agriculture
 - b. state governments
 - c. railroad companies
 - d. local governments
4. Andrew Carnegie made his fortune in the field of:
 - a. steel.
 - b. banking.
 - c. shipping.
 - d. petroleum.
5. Which of the following emphasizes most strongly the duty of the rich to do good works for the public?
 - a. socialism
 - b. Social Darwinism
 - c. classical economics
 - d. the gospel of wealth
6. The "Great Strike of 1877"
 - a. occurred when coal operators cut wages by 10 percent
 - b. involved striking cowhands across the Midwest
 - c. spread along railroad lines across the country
 - d. drew dramatic public support
7. A major feature of the program of the American Federation of Labor was its emphasis on:
 - a. political action to achieve its goals.
 - b. reforming and altering the capitalist system.
 - c. immediate objectives, such as wages, hours, and working conditions.
 - d. mass organization of all laborers--skilled, unskilled, and agricultural.
8. The Homestead strike of 1892 and the Pullman strike of 1894 were similar in that:
 - a. both involved the American Railway Union.
 - b. Military force was used to restore order in both.
 - c. both started when management ordered health benefit reductions for some workers.
 - d. strikers fought Pinkerton guards in violent pitched battles at both locations.
9. The Sherman Anti-Trust Act was primarily used to curb the power of
 - a. manufacturing corporations.
 - b. labor unions.
 - c. state legislatures.
 - d. railroad corporations.

10. Social Darwinists held that government intervention in society would
 - a. help stop exploitation.
 - b. hinder social progress.
 - c. prevent corporate abuses.
 - d. Intensify class conflict
11. In response to the 1894 Pullman strike, President Grover Cleveland
 - a. offered to serve as a mediator.
 - b. intervened on the side of labor.
 - c. remained uninvolved and did nothing.
 - d. intervened on the side of management.
12. Experiences at Homestead, Pennsylvania and Pullman, Illinois in the 1890s demonstrated to American workers that
 - a. solidarity across craft lines worked
 - b. striking workers could not persevere in the face of state or federal opposition
 - c. negotiation between workers and owners/operators could result in a satisfactory agreement on both sides
 - d. the use of violence during strikes worked to the striker's advantage
13. The American Federation of Labor survived and grew as a labor union owing in large part to its
 - a. idealistic philosophy.
 - b. political involvement.
 - c. specific and limited goals.
 - d. appeal to unskilled workers.
14. Discontented farmers aimed their harshest criticism against which one of the following groups?
 - a. legislators
 - b. railroad corporations
 - c. fraternal organizations
 - d. lawyers
15. By their actions, late-nineteenth-century businessmen, farmers, and laborers all seemed to have elevated the concept of _____ to a higher level on their list of priorities.
 - a. laissez-faire
 - b. competition
 - c. organization
 - d. individualism
16. A significant characteristic of American politics at the national level during the late nineteenth century was the:
 - a. development of a true multiparty system.
 - b. dominance of the Republican party in popular support.
 - c. dominance of the Democratic party in popular support.
 - d. nearly equal division of popular support for the Democratic and Republican parties..
17. The leading and most prominent socialist in the United States in the early 1900s was
 - a. Eugene Debs
 - b. Victor Berger
 - c. Morris Hillquit
 - d. "Big Bill" Haywood

18. Which of the following novels is a shocking expose of the horrible conditions in the Chicago meat-packing industry?
- Kate Chopin's "Awakening"
 - Frank Norris's "Octopus"
 - Frank Norris's "Pit"
 - Upton Sinclair's "Jungle"
19. The presidential nominee of the Populists in 1896 was
- John P. Atgeld
 - Richard P. Bland
 - William J. Bryan
 - Thomas E. Watson
20. The presidential nominee of the Democrats in 1900 was
- John P. Atgeld
 - Richard P. Bland
 - William J. Bryan
 - Thomas E. Watson
21. The Teller Amendment
- denied any intention by the United States to extend its sovereignty over Cuba
 - announced the United States' intention to protect American interests in Cuba, whatever the cost
 - prohibited United States involvement in the Filipino insurrection against Spain
 - established an American naval base in Cuba
22. The first major victory for American forces in the Spanish-American War was at
- San Juan Hill
 - Santiago
 - Manila Bay
 - Havana
23. The Treaty of Paris of 1898, which ended the Spanish-American War, provided for Spain to transfer to the United States three of the following. Which is the EXCEPTION?
- Guam
 - Midway
 - the Philippines
 - Puerto Rico
24. Whereas the Spanish-American War lasted about three and a half months, the American effort to suppress the subsequent Filipino insurrection lasted:
- a week.
 - a month.
 - a year.
 - more than three years.
25. The so-called Open Door policy was initially designed to protect American interests in:
- China.
 - Cuba.
 - Panama.
 - Samoa.
26. Which of the following was not a recently emerging world power at the opening of the twentieth century.
- Germany
 - Japan
 - United States
 - Great Britain

27. The anthracite coal strike of 1902 was settled when
- a. the United Mine Workers Union was broken by the Coal Operators Association
 - b. the Coal Operators Association capitulated to the demands of the union
 - c. President Teddy Roosevelt threatened to seize the mines if the operators did not reach a settlement with the union
 - d. President Teddy Roosevelt intervened with the U.S. Army in order to force an end to the strike
28. In the Northern Securities Case of 1901 President Teddy Roosevelt revived which 19th century law
- a. the Interstate Commerce Commission
 - b. the Homestead Act
 - c. the Sherman Anti-Trust Act
 - d. the Civil Rights Act
29. The New Nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt called for:
- a. strengthening the regulatory powers of the federal government.
 - b. returning to the laissez-faire principles of the late nineteenth century.
 - c. investing the states with the largest responsibility for controlling the trust and regulating industry.
 - d. a vigorous program of trust busting to restore free competition and thus obviate the need for government regulation.
30. The Hepburn Act was directed toward
- a. railroad regulation.
 - b. antitrust prosecution.
 - c. pure food and drug administration.
 - d. conservation of natural resources.
31. President Theodore Roosevelt's support for the Hepburn Act and Pure Food and Drug Act reflected his belief in
- a. an economy where small businesses freely competed with one another
 - b. an economy untethered by government interference
 - c. the need to regulate big business
 - d. supporting business at the expense of the consumer
32. At heart, Theodore Roosevelt was
- a. a radical.
 - b. an anachronism.
 - c. a conservative.
 - d. a committed communist.
33. The aphorism "Speak softly and carry a big stick" was used by Roosevelt in reference to his:
- a. foreign policy.
 - b. policy toward labor unions.
 - c. technique when on safari in Africa.
 - d. political strategy toward the Democrats.
34. In the Platt Amendment, Cuba
- a. declared its independence from Spain.
 - b. became a protectorate of the United States
 - c. joined an alliance with the United States and Filipino insurrectionists to defeat the Spanish
 - d. promised to end atrocities committed against Spanish troops detained by Cuban rebels

35. Government subsidy of industry during the industrial revolution included
- A. Railroad aid
 - B. High tariffs
 - C. Anti-labor policies
 - D. All of the above
36. The civil war
- A. Stimulated the rapid growth of several industries
 - B. Retarded the progress of industrialization
 - C. Had no impact on industrialization
 - D. Led to the rapid decline of the steel industry
37. One of the most important consequences of the depression of 1873-1877 for business was
- A. to encourage business to search for ways to control their markets
 - B. to convince business leaders that cooperation with labor unions would help moderate swings in the business cycle
 - C. to encourage business leaders to reject the Republican party in favor of the newly established Populist party.
 - D. To demand government regulation of their industries in order to stabilize prices
38. Which of the following unions illustrates the One Big Union principle?
- A. United Mine Workers
 - B. American Railway Union
 - C. Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers
 - D. Noble Order of the Knights of Labor
39. One of the important consequences of Haymarket Square incident of 1885 was
- A. The rapid decline of the labor movement among American workers
 - B. The rapid decline of the Knights of Labor
 - C. The rapid growth of the Knights of Labor
 - D. A change in the anti-labor policies of government
40. Samuel Gompers was the president of
- A. the Knight of Labor
 - B. the American Railway Union
 - C. the American Federation of Labor
 - D. the Grange
41. A key development stimulating the agricultural revolution in the late nineteenth century was
- A. government price support programs
 - B. opening of the high plains for agricultural development
 - C. declining productivity which led to higher commodity prices
 - D. falling prices for agricultural machinery
42. The most successful third party during the late nineteenth century was the
- A. Greenback Labor party
 - B. Socialist party
 - C. Populist party
 - D. Single Tax Party

43. During the "crisis of American capitalism" the left advocated
- A. free enterprise
 - B. war with Spain
 - C. limits on private property
 - D. increased government subsidies for business
44. The principle focus of Teddy Roosevelt's Caribbean policy was
- A. access to the isthmus of Panama
 - B. promoting democratic and human rights in the region
 - C. control of the tourist industry in the region
 - D. access to rich mineral deposits in the region
45. At the Portsmouth conference of 1905 Teddy Roosevelt helped end
- A. the Boxer Rebellion
 - B. the Filipino Insurrection
 - C. the Russo-Japanese War
 - D. the Opium Wars
46. Teddy Roosevelt was most interested in which reform policy
- A. railroad regulation
 - B. promotion of collective bargaining
 - C. meat inspection
 - D. conservation
47. Teddy Roosevelt's most significant contribution to the art of politics was
- A. federal funding of presidential elections
 - B. the exploitation of class conflict
 - C. the exploitation of personal popularity
 - D. legal suppression of opponents
48. William Howard Taft won the election of 1908 primarily because
- A. of his long experience in electoral politics
 - B. of the popularity of the policies he advocated during the campaign
 - C. he was recommended by Teddy Roosevelt
 - D. he weighed 330 lbs.
50. William McKinley's Secretary of State was
- A. John Hay
 - B. Richard Starkey
 - C. Paul McCartney
 - D. John Lennon